STANWOOD R. DUVAL, JR.

Stanwood R. Duval, Jr. was sworn in as United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Louisiana on October 31, 1994. His official duty station is New Orleans, Louisiana.

Judge Duval received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1964 from Louisiana State University and a Juris Doctor degree in 1966 from Louisiana State University Law School.

From 1966 until his appointment to the federal bench, Judge Duval practiced law in Houma, Louisiana, as a partner and senior partner with Duval, Funderburk, Sundbery & Lovell, LLP. During those years, he was Assistant City Attorney from 1970 to 1972 and the Parish Attorney for the Terrebonne Parish Consolidated Government from 1988 to 1992. Judge Duval served as a member of the Indigent Defender Board from 1976 to 1982 and was an elected delegate to the Louisiana Constitutional Convention of 1973 (member, Committee on Executive Branch) and elected to the Committee to Write Rules of Procedure. Judge Duval was a member of the Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules to the Judicial Conference of the United States Courts from 1997 to 2003, the Council of the Louisiana Law Institute from 1996 to 2000, and the Fifth Circuit Judicial Council from 2004 to 2007.

While serving on the bench, Judge Duval's most notable cases were consolidated under C.A. No. 05-4182 In re Katrina Canal Breaches Consolidated Litigation. Judge Duval undertook the management of all of the litigation arising out of the failure of the levee system in the New Orleans area after Hurricane Katrina, which had over 1,200 cases comprised of hundreds of thousands of claims. As a result, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana has systematically adjudicated in as rapidly and as economically as possible all of the legal issues necessary for determining liability and responsibility for the breaches of the levees and floodwalls surrounding Orleans, St. Bernard and Plaquemine Parishes.

Judge Duval was the past president, 2001 to 2004, and a current member of the Tulane Inn of Court, 2001 to present. . The Judge serves on the Board for KIPP New Orleans Schools and the board of the Innocence Project New Orleans. He served on the Board of Directors of Covenant House of New Orleans, a non-profit corporation which provides aid to homeless adolescents, 2001 to 2016, and also served as the Chairman of Board of Directors, 2014 to 2016. He was a volunteer teacher at the Alternative High School for At Risk Students in New Orleans from 2003 to 2005. He was awarded the Distinguished Achievement Award 2013 by the LSU Law Center, The James J. Buquet, Jr. Award of Distinction 2014 by the Terrebonne Foundation for Academic Excellence and the Good Apple Award for Social Justice 2017 by Louisiana Appleseed

After serving as a federal judge for over 22 years, Judge Duval retired from the bench on January 31, 2017.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Course/Clerkship/Residency or Fellowship/CME Directorships

Associate Residency Program Director – New York University School of Medicine
The NYU residency program has seven residents per year and a preliminary intern (total 29 residents). In conjunction with the Residency Program Director, I was responsible for meeting the educational program requirements set forth by the Resident Review Committee (RRC) for Obstetrics & Gynecology. I worked in every aspect of the Residency Program in an effort to transition into the role as Residency Program Director. I was responsible for all aspects of program management for the 29 residents in the OBGYN residency program, including didactics scheduling, duty hour monitoring, and maintenance of all RRC requirements. I organized the daily rotational schedule for clinical and surgical experience at four sites in New York City, including Bellevue Hospital, Langone Medical Center, Elmhurst Hospital – Queens, and Woodhull – Brooklyn. I implemented a number of initiatives for medical students interested in Obstetrics & Gynecology, including an ERAS application preparation workshop and Mock Interview Workshop. I also served as our primary recruiter for the residency program at the annual ACOG Residency Fair. During my tenure, the program achieved a 100% fellowship match rate, 97% boards' passage rate, and a five-year residency program accreditation.
July 2006 – July 2010

Residency Program Director – Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center
The LSU residency program has six residents per year. I was solely responsible for meeting the educational program requirements set forth by the Resident Review Committee (RRC) for Obstetrics & Gynecology. Those responsibilities included resident scheduling, maintenance of accreditation, duty hour monitoring, and achievement of all RRC requirements. I organized the rotational schedule for clinical and surgical experience at four sites located throughout the state of Louisiana, including University Medical Center – New Orleans, Touro Infirmary, Lafayette General Hospital and University Hospital & Clinics in Lafayette. As Program Director, I implemented a number of initiatives including: an ERAS preparation workshop and mock interview workshop for medical students interviewing in Obstetrics & Gynecology, READ Educational Initiative (see below), and Poll Everywhere instant audience feedback for increasing anonymous resident feedback in response to ACGME survey responses. The LSU residency program has been well represented at LSU Residency Planning Day and the national ACOG Residency Fair. During my tenure as Program Director applications to the LSU residency in OBGYN increased from medical students across the country from 330 to 600. In addition applicants from our own LSU School of Medicine have tripled. I developed a program where each fourth year LSU medical student interested in OBGYN is matched with a faculty member who helps the student navigate the application process. I revamped all evaluations and Goals & Objectives and computerized the residency program's semi-annual meeting platform. I also implemented a mini-oral exam to prepare residents for the ABOG exam called the Practical Assessment of Clinical Knowledge. During my tenure, the program has achieved a 95% boards' passage rate and continued accreditation.

July 2012 – July 2017

Director of Faculty & Resident Development– Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center
In my new role as Residency Program Director Emeritus, I have become an advisor to three residency programs: LSU OBGYN – New Orleans, LSU OBGYN – Baton Rouge, and Pathology. I advised program directors in the areas of ACGME requirements, program development and remediation. From the faculty side, I serve as a mentor/faculty advisor to a number of junior faculty in an effort to increase the number of faculty promotions from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor.
July 2017 – present

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT/IMPLEMENTATION

Resident Electronic Academic Digest (READ) – Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center
Resident Electronic Academic Digest (READ) is an educational opportunity that was implemented as a voluntary endeavor within the Louisiana State University OB/GYN residency program. Residents are emailed an article regarding a topic in Obstetrics and/or Gynecology. Topics are chosen from the Council on Resident Education in Obstetrics and Gynecology (CREOG) in-service examination from the previous year. Questions that were missed by 75% of LSU residents were utilized to develop the topic list. Generated questions are emailed to the residents, followed by the answers one week later. In the first three years, there was a mean increase in program CREOG score of 10 points. Questions were originally all written by me, then faculty, however now, residents write all quizzes. In addition resident participation is now mandatory as decided by the residency program administration.

August 2011 – present
OBGYN Residency Bootcamp – Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center
Development of a preparation workshop for fourth year medical students who have matched in an OBGYN residency program. The Bootcamp two-week program includes lectures and simulation designed to prepare the incoming residents to care for obstetric and gynecologic patients in the clinic, surgical, and labor and delivery suites, with the goal of having the interns ready for their start on July 1st.
January 2013 – present

CREATION OF ENDURING TEACHING MATERIALS

OBGYN Desk Calendar
Sole-author and creator of an OBGYN daily desk calendar with 365 multiple choice questions. This calendar was created to assist residents and practitioners in studying for the written and oral boards as no such entity existed on the market. I researched the material for the calendar and wrote each question and corresponding answer using the ACOG Practice Bulletins and Committee Opinions as a reference. The calendar is produced in conjunction with America's OBGYN Boards review. The calendar is now in its second edition.
May 2012

Practical Assessment of Clinical Knowledge
As the Residency Program Director, I implemented a structured assessment of resident application of clinical knowledge with a one on one oral examination given by faculty to every resident in the spring. Content follows the goals and objectives for each PGY year level and includes the creation of case-based exam questions, implementation of testing, evaluation and grading, and remediation of residents on an as-needed basis.
January 2013 - present
